This remark was addressed to a Jacksonville hostess by her guest at dinner Sunday. Whereupon the hostess replied: "The trick is an easy one. I always kill my chicken the day before I am to use it—then I put it on ice over night. This takes all the animal warmth from the body and adds a sweetness to the meat you'll not find in a chicken which was killed and put right on to cook."

This woman knows something about ice. She has learned by experience that it has a purpose further than to "just keep things from spoiling."

When PURE ICE is used every particle of food placed upon it is made better. Our ice is pure ice. It is taken from a spring water lake, and we guarantee it to be free from all infection. Call up either phone, Illinois 10 and 12, Bell 516, and we will make prompt deliveries.

CANDIDATES FOR SENATOR

Four Prominent Aspirants Were in Springfield Tuesday—Sherman Denies Use of Offensive Language as to Cullom and Yates.

Springfield News: Senator Shelby M. Cullom, after a brief visit to Springfield, returned to Chicago this afternoon, going by the Illinois Central. Before leaving Senator Cullom said he would return to Springfield about Sept. 4 and remain until after the state fair.

The senator declared that there was absolutely no political significance to his present visit. Notwithstanding this fact he had numerous visitors during the day, among whom were men prominent in local and state politics. "I will be back here on Sept. 4," said Senator Cullom, "and will have my family with me. I have nothing to say about the political situation. Maybe you can tell me something."

When told that Judge Sherman had denied the use of the offensive epithets ascribed to him in speaking of himself the senator smiled and said that he did not wish to discuss the matter.

During his stay here Senator Cullom had so many callers that it was with difficulty he could snatch an hour for dinner. Many of them were politicians, but as many more were old neighbors and friends who called in a social way, independent of politics, to extend friendly greetings. With the appearance of Senator Cullom much speculation was set adrift owing to the fact that the other senatorial candidates are expected to arrive in the city to day.

Judge Sherman got in from Macomb last night. Former Attorney General Hamilton is expected this afternoon and former Governor Yates and his family to night. The presence of all these probable candidates has set the tongues to wagging. Senator Cullom went over to the executive mansion early this morning and was in conference with Governor Davenport for two hours. At its close neither would say what was discussed.

Lieutenant Governor Sherman strolled into the state house about 10 o'clock and went immediately to his office on the third floor. When asked concerning the famous interview with him which was sent out from St. Louis last week, the judge said:

"I used no epithets about Senator Cullom or ex-Governor Yates. They were supplied by the reporter. When asked what gossip there was about these probable candidates, I simply said that I had heard Cullom referred to as 'antique' and Yates as a 'dub.' I did not adopt or approve either of these terms."

"Senator Cullom and ex-Governor Yates may both become candidates. I do not understand anyone has announced himself yet. I am neutral as between them. I do not wish to be understood as criticizing or attacking the personality or candidacy of either."

BUMP THE BUMPS.

Quite a number of people went to Chicago last Saturday and of course visited the chief attraction, that is called, "The White City," which is an up to date "Midway and Pike." Here they were entranced by the many wonders presented under the glare of a myriad of electric lights accompanied by the howling of stentorian barks and villainous ear-splitting so-called music. The multitudinous stunts were so numerous thrilling and rapid that they hardly knew where they were "at." Well, they were royally entertained for a fact, but the most impressive feature of all was, when Sam undertook the "Bump the Bumps" for a new page in his education.

This "bump the bumps" is a steep incline with a smooth surface, across which are large ridges, and the "thrill seeker" slides down the slope on his pants at a great velocity, bounding high at every ridge until he arrives at the bottom with an assortment of bewildering impressions he can never forget, to say nothing of some sore spots. Now Sam is noted for his nerve and to demonstrate that he had it with him he boldly marched up to the starter and said he was ready. Then there was something doing. Ye Gods, you ought to have seen it! Nothing like it ever before in Chicago! It looked like Sam when he started; in two seconds it looked like a cord of wood in a cyclone. Sam wanted to back out but he did not know where his back was, though he could feel it at every bump and then some.

You never saw such a mixture of legs, arms, head and bodies before, and Sam never saw anything but stars and comets and fireworks and smoke. When they gathered him up on the bottom and stood him on his feet, and adjusted his garments while he recovered his much needed breath, which enabled him to say, "Rub me, rub me anywhere; you can't miss the spot where I need it." Then he staggered off to seek for liniment which causes that new kind of swell, not common to undertakers. That rattling sound about him is due to looseness of the bones of the skull, which may require the attention of an osteopath; and that easy cushion in his chair is an indispensable necessity for a vital spot; and those pants will be either half-soled or donated to charity. Well Sam had a good time all right and thinks that the "bump the bumps" is a new diversion that takes it don't let loose until he gets to the bottom, where the curiosity is fully satisfied. He does not go to Chicago every day, but when he does go, he gets his money's worth and makes good use of his time. And he likes to be agreeable to his friends, and his very enthusiastic efforts are appreciated, for his friends like the entertainment, though it may put their nerves on a strain for a while. But if he can stand it they can try to, and will certainly feel grateful and will never forget him, for his "performance" is well "embalmed" in their memories forever.

More than half of mankind over sixty years of age suffer from kidney and bladder disorders, usually enlargement of prostate glands. This is both painful and dangerous, and Foley's Kidney Cure should be taken at the first sign of danger, as it corrects irregularities and has cured many old men of this disease. Mr. Rodney Burnett, Rock Port, Mo., writes: "I suffered with enlarged prostate gland and kidney trouble for years and after taking two bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure I feel better than I have for twenty years, although I am now 71 years old." ## CIVIL WAR

REMINISCENCE

How a Duncan Ranger Uplifts a Black Man.

There is nothing extant in human history that in any conceivable manner can be compared to the "grapevine" mode of communication that existed during the time of the civil war. The private soldier from intuition seemed to devise marching orders long before such orders were issued, but perhaps nothing equaled the aptness of the plantation negro in transmitting the news of President Lincoln's war measure—the great proclamation of emancipation to the slave population south of Mason and Dixon's line. I was yet in my teens but a strong believer in liberty to all men who sought "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness." Hence I had a predilection to use my best efforts to help uplift the slave as the sequel will show later on in this narrative. The "Duncan rangers" were a body of young men were organized in this city in the summer of 1861 by Barbour Lewis, a lawyer of this city, who became our captain. We hoped that we would be attached to some Illinois regiment, but the sentiment of patriotism sped like wild fire into every household and Governor Yates was overwhelmed with offers of men until he had more than would fill up twice his quota called for by the general government and the states decreed that the sturdy blood of old Morgan county contributed to save old Missouri to the union. The Duncan rangers, which became Company G, 1st Missouri cavalry for a long time campaigned in the neighborhood of New Madrid, Mo., where guerrillas abounded as thick as fleas in a cotton gin. We were campaigning in the vicinity of Memphis when Mass. Lincoln's proclamation of freeing the slaves was promulgated, and the grapevine like a prairie on fire, conveyed the glad tidings to every black man from the border slave states to the most remote plantation in South Carolina. The name of Lincoln was on the lips of every slave even to the lisping pickaninny. The fevered anxiety of those slaves to get into the lines of the union army was in many respects ludicrous. Women could be seen carrying their belongings on their heads, and their babies slung on their backs. About this time a tall, heavily built slave came into our company and we hired him a cook for our mess. Later we learned that he was born in Tipperary county, South Carolina, and while yet young was sold to a planter in Mississippi by the name of Levi Cummings. Thus this slave, like many others, took his name from his master's patrimony and is known as Charles Cummings.

The faithfulness, the honesty and the unrighteousness of this man so impressed me that I felt a deep interest in promoting his future prospects. He got the grapevine message and made haste to join our wagon train and left his old home and wife and child behind, but his love for that wife and child would not down. So at great risk he returned and stole them away and brought them to Memphis where they sickened and died. He remained with us through the remainder of our three years' service and then I determined to bring him home with me, an act I have never regretted.

This ex-slave worked for Col. Mathews near Sinclair and by his honesty and integrity enlisted the good will of the neighborhood, and Charles Cummings' name was always mentioned as an honest man and his work received its just reward. He was enabled to "eror" for himself, then he married a woman who worked for the late Dr. S. G. Wengley in the Antioch neighborhood. This ex-slave still lives in the Antioch neighborhood, surrounded by a respectable family of one son and three daughters, and this honest ex-slave never tires in pouring forth his heartfelt gratitude to us who brought him to a land where labor and integrity meets its adequate reward, and to the liberality of the Mathews', Wengley's and O'neal's and all those who so liberally helped him.

It is indeed very gratifying to us of the Duncan rangers that we were primarily instrumental in uplifting this contraband who took his inspiration from the camp grapevine, the best source of news then existing throughout the camps of Lincoln boys in blue.

A NATURAL RESULT.

It is reasonable to suppose if the foundation of a structure gives way, the building is bound to come down. This principle can be applied to disease. Take medicine that will remove the cause of sickness, and a cure is sure to follow. Dyspepsia, indigestion, sick-headache, and biliousness, their foundation is stomach disorders. Remove this weakness and the other symptoms are no more. There is one cure druggists sell for 25c per box. It is Dr. Gunn's Improved Liver Pills. One for a dose. They make the cure by taking away the cause. Write to Dr. Bonsako Co., Philadelphia, Pa. Sold by Lee P. Allcott.

THE PEOPLE ALL

In Chorus Cried, 'Give Us Newbro's Herpicide'

This word of late has been in everyone's mouth, and many are wondering what the word signifies. Though no one has yet been found who will deny that NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE does the work. Well, for the information of thousands of people who like to know all about a good thing, we would say that HERPICIDE makes a destroyer or killer of "Herpes." Now "Herpes" is the family name of a disease caused by various vegetable parasites. A similar microbe causes dandruff, itching scalp, and falling hair; this is the microbe that NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE promptly destroys, after which the hair grows. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

TEXAS FEVER

Dread Disease Attacks Stock Belonging to T. D. Wilson—Inspectors Here—No Apprehension of Spread

Texas fever, the dread of cattle men throughout the country, has made its appearance in this section. Some cattle belonging to T. D. Wilson, east of the city, are affected, but the cases were discovered in time, and the animals are closely quarantined, both the national and state authorities having been notified, and there is not the remotest chance of the disease spreading.

Dr. Scott was called by Mr. Wilson last week to see some of his cattle which were sick. Two cows and a young steer were dead, and a cow, a steer and calf afflicted with the same disease. Dr. Scott pronounced the ailment Texas fever and promptly notified the state authorities at Springfield. Dr. Tiffany, of the state board, was out of the city at the time, and failed to receive the message, consequently nothing was done in the case. Dr. S. H. Caldwell, of Chicago, a government inspector, was here Monday to see if the quarantine law is properly enforced here, and he was notified of the case. After going to look at the afflicted animals Dr. Caldwell notified Dr. Tiffany, who arrived in the city yesterday, and together they again visited the premises of Mr. Wilson and provided for the keeping of a strict quarantine.

Mr. Wilson's cow lot adjoins the Wahash stock yards, where about two months ago a load of Texas cattle were unloaded and fed, and shipped out the next morning. The fence to the yards was broken down, so that Mr. Wilson's stock got into the quarters where the Texas cattle had been. It is supposed that this is the way in which they contracted the disease. Texas fever of transmitted through ticks which attack the animals, and the supposition is that some of these were left in the cattle yards by the foreign cattle.

No apprehension of the spread of the disease is felt by the authorities, and it is thought that the incident is practically closed.

MARKET REPORT

Chicago, Aug. 28.—Oliver S. Green, with McGahan Commission Co., U. S. Yards, Chicago, reports for Monday, Aug. 28: 26,000 cattle; 30,000 hogs; 24,000 sheep.

Early reports were 24,000 cattle. Good to choice corn fed cattle sold at steady prices and bulk of others were easy to a shade lower, and the demand was not as sharp for that kind as on last Wednesday. Three lots of prime heavy Nebraska cattle sold for $6.40. The sales at $6.00 to $6.25 were quite numerous. Feeders and dealers should notice that the per cent of well fattened cattle is small and the range in prices very wide between medium and choice well fattened cattle and that the bulk coming, and to come for some time, are and will be the common and medium class, and the good and choice cut but a small figure. And unless cattle are well fattened they sell at prices that are much below the best ones. Good westerns steady, others weaker. Butcher stock steady; stockers and feeders steady.

Early the hog market was steady, later 5c lower. Extreme tops $6.35. Sheep and lambs slow and 10 to 15c lower.

Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 28.—The cattle market improved every day last week till Friday, when buyers appeared indifferent, and half the advance of the first of the week was lost on medium to common cattle, including stockers and feeders. Good dry lot steers held their strength, and are higher today, in face of a run of 19,000 head here. Top last week was $5.00, but a drove sold early today at $5.75, highest price this month. Prime yearlings sold at $5.55 last week, and of course this class of cattle, in fact all that sell above $5.00 will hold their own for a time, and make gains occasionally. The supply last week was 53,000, and contained a good share of Westerns, suitable for the killers, a large supply of she stuff, and 20,000 stockers and feeders.

The hold over at the end of last week was the smallest for a month, and demand from feeder buyers was so strong that some of the Westerns were taken away from the packers by country buyers. Stocker and feeder market was strongest Wednesday of last week, and prices declined 10 to 20 cents after that on a slackening up of the demand; the net advance for the week was 10 to 15 cents. A big string of well bred Utah stockers, 575, sold at $3.50, and some feeders in same shipment, 908, at $3.45. Good quality 900 to 1100. Westerns sold at $3.50 to $3.60. Good to choice native feeders sold at $4.00 to $4.35, best stockers at $3.95, while a large number of fairly desirable stock cattle were secured at $3.00 to $3.35. Trade in stock cows and heifers ran along about steady, at $2.00 to $2.65. The large supply today includes a good share of country grades, which are selling about steady with the close of last week.

Charles James and son sold to Andrew Harris three loads of cattle averaging 1250 at $5, and a load of hogs to Henry Mosely at $16 per head; also brought a load of stock sheep from St. Louis for sale.

HINTS FOR FARMERS

Cement Milk Paint.
Stir into one gallon of milk about three pounds of Portland cement and add sufficient kerosene oil to make a good color. The milk will hold the paint in suspension, but the cement, being very heavy, will sink to the bottom, so that it becomes necessary to keep the mixture well stirred with a paddle. This feature of the need of stirring is the only drawback to the paint, and as its efficiency depends upon administering a good coating of cement it is not safe to leave its application to untrustworthy help. Six hours after painting this paint will be as immovable and unaffected by water as month-old oil paint. Whole milk is better than skim milk or buttermilk, as it contains more oil.—Scientific American.

Cows Need Fiber in Food.
There is one point that some feeders lose sight of, and that is the value of fiber in feed of cows, or, in fact, of any animals adapted to the consumption of fresh and dried grasses. Fiber is coming to be recognized as a very important constituent of the feed of cows. Where it has been ignored, as in the great feeding yards connected with distilleries, the results have not been good. Just how much fiber the cow must have in her food to do her best is not now known, but the more it is investigated the more does it appear that the amount is quite large. We can easily overdo the matter of feeding concentrates.—Farm Progress.

Honest Discontent.
A successful "poor land farmer" told us the other day that he had troubled the production of his farm in the past thirteen years by judicious management, adding, "And I have only made a beginning in the improvement of the land." The best part of his story was not what he had done or how he had done it, but that he was not satisfied with the progress already made. There are enough dissatisfied farmers, but not enough of this particular variety. What a good thing it would be for this country if there were more of this "honest discontent" among its people on farms and everywhere else!—National Stockman.

Cull the Hen Flock.
Now that the hatching season is over there is no necessity for retaining the roosters, as the hens will lay without their presence, and their room is valuable, while they cost more for food than they are worth. It is well to retain the best of the early pullets, but all pullets that do not show evidence of thrift or of reaching maturity before winter should be disposed of. The young cockerels should be disposed of just as soon as they are large enough for market or the table. It is better to give the growing stock plenty of room than to crowd them.

Disinfect the Hen Yards.
Disease spreads rapidly in summer. The well known bordeaux mixture is excellent for use on yards that have contained diseased fowls, but a cheaper method is to dissolve one pound of copperas in two gallons of boiling water. When cold add one gill of sulphuric acid. With an old watering pot sprinkle every portion of the ground, handling the mixture carefully. Where the ground seems to be the source of gases in chicks, lime is one of the cheapest materials to apply.

WHY IT SUCCEEDS

Because it's for One Thing Only and Jacksonville is Learning This.

Nothing can be good for everything. Doing one thing well brings success. Doan's Kidney Pills do one thing well.

The cure backache, every kidney ailment. Here is Jacksonville evidence prove it:

John Fenton, employed with Arthur Jordan poultry and produce business on North Main street, says: "I was taken with an attack of acute pain through my back and kidneys. I could not stoop, and in fact became so bad that I could not work or hardly move around. A friend advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills and the results were simply magical. In a short time my back was strengthened, the pain disappeared and I was as well as ever."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50c. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

The Collar Pad.
The collar pad is a modern invention—that is, its general use has grown up in the last ten years or so, but good horsemen condemn it still. In fact, the tendency with those who give real thought to horse comfort and care is toward hard instead of soft collars. A steel collar with hame rings and hooks attached is now being largely sold. The really important matter is to have a collar to fit.—Farm Progress.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hackett on South Main street was the scene of a very enjoyable family reunion Sunday. The sons and daughters, five in number, all participated, and made the occasion one to be cherished in the memory of those who participated. Mrs. W. A. Patterson and husband, late of Chicago; James Dutton Hackett wife and daughter, of New York City; George A. Hackett, wife and daughter, of Decatur, Ill.; Charles H. Hackett and wife and John S. Hackett, wife and three daughters and a son made up a pleasant gathering. Several of the little ones were baptised in the afternoon by Rev. R. O. Post, pastor of the Congregational church. Mr. Hackett and Mary Bailey were married Sept. 11, 1865, by Rev. James O. Roberts, then pastor of the Congregational church in this city. Shortly after this Mr. and Mrs. Hackett commenced housekeeping 1414 South Main street where they have since resided, and nearly forty years. ### ETTA LOUISE BLAKE

As Peggy From Paris a Success From the Start.

Jacksonville has had several carnivals and some of the attractions with them were good, some bad, some indifferent and some very poor. But in our opinion the best carnival show yet seen in this city is Peggy from Paris. It has certainly caught the town. It was packed to the doors last night until 11 p. m. The amusement loving public of this city is always willing to support a good attraction like Peggy from Paris.

MUNICIPAL LIGHT.

What the friends of municipal ownership claim to be a great victory for them was won at the meeting of the city council in Springfield Monday, when the council by a vote of 11 to 3 vested Mayor Devereaux, with authority to take over the properties of the plant of the Springfield electric light company valued at $100,000. Henceforth the city will control and operate the plant.
